Association Executive 5 Pin Championship

Phil Erwood of Hamilton is shown here with O5PBA Tournament Director Harold Stoddart. Phil was the winner of the Association Executive 5 Pin Championship held on Saturday, November 6th at Sherwood Centre in Hamilton. It proved to be a close finish with Phil winning with a +138 pins over average score, just 2 pins ahead of second place. Phil wins a trip for two (2) to a sunny destination to take place in November of 2007. That should give him plenty of time to fill his new four (4) piece set of luggage, which was also a part of his winning prize.

A Movie Quotes Answers

Answers

1. A) Ben might not have taken Mr. McGuire's advice but perhaps he should have. In 1979 the volume of plastics produced in the U.S.A. surpassed the volume of domestically produced steel.
2. A) In Sudden Impact, Clint Eastwood spoke one of his most memorial quotes. He gave us so many in so many different movies.
3. B) Lloyd might be right about kickboxing being the sport of the future, but it is also a sport with a past, as it was first developed in Thailand hundreds of years ago.
4. B) This is a classic misquote that has become fixed in popular culture. What Humphrey Bogart actually says is "You played it for her, you can play it for me. Play it!"
5. C) Gloria Swanson, a major movie star of silent movies, made a dramatic comeback in Sunset Boulevard (1950), playing a major star of silent movies.
6. B) Repo Man, a movie about a young man who meets a series of odd characters after he gets a job repossessing cars, has become a cult favorite because of lines like this. To this day, in certain circles, if someone finds something amazingly coincidental he or she will respond by saying "plate of shrimp!"
7. B) Terry Malloy dreamed of becoming a boxing champion, but his life as a dock worker and sometime strong arm for the union-affiliated mob did not live up to his dreams.
8. A) Although the use of napalm came under criticism in the USA during the Vietnam War era, it was first deployed by U.S. military forces in the Pacific theater during World War II, and napalm bombs remain a key weapon in the arsenal of many modern air forces.
9. B) Cool Hand Luke is full of good quotes. After Luke, played by Paul Newman, successfully bluffs to win a poker game, he says "Sometimes nothing' can be a real cool hand" and Cool Hand Luke becomes his nickname.
10. A) While the move Jaws depicted a homicidal shark, the truth is that no sharks naturally feed on humans. Most researchers agree that attacks on humans are often a mistake on the shark's part—the shark may mistake the human for large sea mammals such as seals or sea lions.
